“Tools to Thrive in Turbulent Times”

Thursday, March 21, 2002 Fenway Golf Club
Mr. Steve Arias, Host Manager

Why do some organizations and individuals falter during times of uncertainty while others thrive in chaos and find ways to adapt?

Is it our IQ or technical skills that gets us through those times—or our ability to keep it together and manage ourselves and others?

Specially-Designed Presentation by Dr. J-P Fry

(Note: If you enjoyed Arch Stokes at last year's Symposium, you will not want to miss this year's superb presentation!)

About Eric Caspers...

Those of us who were fortunate enough to know the late Eric Caspers recall his elegant, gracious manner and his love of the finer things life has to offer, especially outstanding food and wine. This evening is a perfect opportunity to celebrate having known him in a manner he would appreciate. For the enlightenment of those of you who did not know him, Eric was the long-time General Manager of Beach Point Club until his retirement at the end of 1998. He was also a Quarter Century Member of MCMA, its President in 1985 and 1986, and a founding member of Metropolitan Club Foundation.
